DR. CRAPSEY TO BE SUSPENDED

Court of Review Sustains Decision of Lower Court.

Opinion Will Probably Put an End to the Case.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Rev. Algernon S. Crapsey, D. D., of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Rochester, is condemned to suspension from the church as a result of the decision of the Protestant Episcopal court of review just made public today. The court of review sustains the decision of the lower court, and the decision of the lower court was that Dr. Crapsey should be suspended for alleged heretical teachings. The announcement of the decision was made as follows: "The court of review has affirmed unanimously the decision of the lower court in the case of Rev. Algernon S. Crapsey, D. D."

The Crapsey case has attracted wide attention since the publication of Dr. Crapsey's book on "Religion and Politics," and also since he preached a number of sermons in which it is charged against him that he had taught doctrines which were contrary to the faith of the Protestant Episcopal Church. Dr. Crapsey replied that he had preached only according to what he believed to be true. He contested the proceedings against him vigorously, and among his counsel was Edward M. Shepard, one of the most noted lawyers of New York. Mr. Shepard contended that Dr. Crapsey had acted within his rights throughout, and had shown himself to be straightforward and sincere in all his preaching.

At the recent convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the diocese of New York Bishop Potter created a stir by making what was assumed to be an allusion to the Crapsey case, in which the bishop said that a minister who found himself no longer able to teach the essential doctrines of the church should retire from the priesthood.

The charges against Dr. Crapsey were first heard by an ecclesiastical court at Batavia, and after a trial the court rendered a verdict sustaining the charges. An appeal from this decision was heard by the board of review of the Protestant Episcopal Church which met in this city. There were several sessions, extending over a period of several weeks, and the noted counsel who appeared for and against Dr. Crapsey in the Batavia trial appeared and re-argued the entire case at length. The final session of the board of review was held last week, and at its conclusion announcement was made that a decision had been reached, but would not be announced until it had been served upon Dr. Crapsey and the bishop of the western New York diocese.

This decision, which was announced today, apparently ends the Crapsey case. Under it Dr. Crapsey will be suspended from exercising the functions of a minister of the Protestant Episcopal Church until such time as his teachings conform to the doctrines of the Apostles' and Nicene Creeds. There can be no further appeal, as the board of review which heard the appeal from the original decision is the highest court in the church.

Dr. Crapsey in his sermons and writings questioned the virgin birth of Jesus. He also contended that there were fallacies in other beliefs and doctrines forming the foundation of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

DEMONSTRATION AGAINST ARMY

Made by Anarchist While Duke of Aosta Was Distributing Prizes.

NAPLES, Nov. 19.—An anarchist made a demonstration against the army here today while the Duke of Aosta was distributing prizes to soldiers who distinguished themselves in the relief work during the eruption of Mount Vesuvius in April last. The duke, who is commander of the militia district and cousin of King Victor Emmanuel, was standing surrounded by the local military authorities and the troops of the garrison at a short distance from the massed standards of the regiment, when a man named Nicola Flore, known to be a member of an anarchistic organization, threw a package of anti-military newspapers at the regimental standards, and at the same time shouted insulting statements directed against the army in general. He was immediately arrested.

Steamer Dix Sinks With 70 Passengers on Board.

Forty Lose Their Lives in Puget Sound Collision.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 19.—Steamer Dix, captain P. Lermont, bound from Seattle to Port Blakely, with passengers, sank two miles north of Alki point shortly after 7 o'clock last night after having collided with steamship Jeanie, Captain P. V. Mason, of the Alaska Coast Company. Forty-one passengers and members of the crew of the Dix are missing and 36 are saved. The Dix was sunk. The Jeanie was not injured in the least, and no member of her crew was lost. The master of the Dix was saved. The collision occurred while the sound was almost as smooth as a mill pond, and after the boats had been steering within sight of each other for a quarter of an hour.

The Jeanie was heading when she collided with the Dix and the impact was very slight. The Dix was struck abaft of amidship on the starboard side. She listed heavily to port for a brief period, righted herself, then sank stern first. There was hardly time to launch the rafts or boats in fact she was almost entirely submerged. Passengers jumped from the decks into

BOMB EXPLODED IN ST. PETER'S.

Crowd Panic-Stricken, But No One Hurt and No Injury Done.

ROME, Nov. 18.—A bomb was exploded today near the high altar in St. Peter's, beneath which is the tomb of the saint. The edifice was crowded and an indescribable scene of confusion followed the explosion. There were no fatalities.

Today was the anniversary of the dedication of the Basilica to St. Peter and the structure was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Holy relics were exposed, and a large number of the faithful attended the services.

As soon ase the echoes of the tremendous roar had ceased, a canon sought by reassuring words to quiet the people, but in vain. They fled in all directions and a number of women fainted. Women and children screamed and men tried to protect their families in the crush. The church is so large, however, that there was ample room for the crowd to scatter and no one was injured.

No trace of the perpetrator of the deed has been found.

Cardinal Rampolla, formerly papal secretary of state, was among those present. He took part in the service in the choir chapel.

The last mass had just been concluded when the explosion occurred, and only one canon, who had not quite finished the service, remained at the altar of St. Peteronilla. This altar is at the end of the right aisle, and it was near here that the bomb had been placed.

As the canon turned to bless the communicants there was a tremendous roar, which echoed through the lofty arches of the immense dome like a thunder clap. At the same time a dense smoke spread throughout this portion of the Basilica and a strong odor of gunpowder filled the air.

Confusion and panic at once seized the people. The canon at the altar tried to stem the tide of fear. He shouted out:

"Do not be afraid; it is nothing, merely the noonday gun." His words, however, had little effect. They were refuted by the smoke and pungent smel of powder, and the people continued their headlong flight. Chairs were otherthrown, making the confusion more serious. Men and women fled, stumbling, in all directions, and the screams of children and cries of anguish were heard on all sides. For a few moments it seemed as if nothing could obviate a grave disaster, but the crowd became much less compact, and soon the people were surging toward the doors, excited and nervous, yet orderly.

As soon as the smoke cleared away a hasty examination showed that nobody had been hurt in the crush, and, furthermore, that no one had been wounded by the explosion. Calm was gradually restored, and people returned to view the extent of the damage.

It was discovered the bomb had been placed under a scaffolding, which had been erected to facilitate repairs to the roof, exactly over the celebrated tomb of Clement XIII., by Canova, which consists of a figure of the Pope and two lions and which is the most remarkable piece of sculpture in the Basilica. This tomb ranks among the finest efforts of modern sculpture and by its execution Canova established his reputation.

When the first gendarmes reached the spot the scaffolding was found to be smoldering, but this fire was easily extinguished. The tomb was found to be absolutely unhajured and even the pavements shows scarcely any signs of the explosion. An examination of the remains of the bomb leads to the supposition, unless it was crudely prepared on purpose to mislead, that it was manufactured in the country and brought into Rome. It is believed that the bomb had a very long fuse, in order to enable the criminal to gain the piazza before the explosion. It has been impossible to trace him, and no one has any recollection of seeing a man who, by his movements, might have aroused suspicion.

Every piece of the bomb that could be found was gathered up by the police and carefully examined. The bomb evidently consisted of a large tin box bound tightly together with wire of two sizes. It must have contained over two pounds of gunpowder and three pounds of nails. The nails were of three sizes, some seven inches long and so heavy that the force of the explosion threw them but a short distance. The nails were enveloped in newspaper dated Nov. 16 and 17, proving that the bomb was prepared either yesterday or today.

ANARCHIST KILLS ZOOLOGIST.

Giovanni Rossi of University of Naples a Victim to Assassin.

NAPLES, Nov. 17.—An anarchist named Lagana, who returned here recently from Paterson, N. J., by way of London, tonight stabbed and killed the famous zoologist, Giovanni Rossi, of the University of Naples, because Rossi in a recent lecture condemned anarchistic customs as barbarous. The murder has produced general indignation, as the victim was held in high esteem.

Lagana, after the crime, boasted of his satisfaction that he had committed the deed, and said if he were free he would begin again on other enemies of anarchists, who were already condemned and would be killed at the earliest moment it was possible to carry out the plans arranged by the anarchists.

PRESIDENT NOTES GRIEVANCES.

Promises Canal Laborers That Improvements Will be Made.

COLON, Nov. 17.—President Roosevelt's plans were somewhat upset today by a landslide which occurred between Colon and Panama, and compelled his special train to make a detour. Nevertheless, the President continued the work of inspection which he had mapped out for himself, and learned at first hand additional facts about the conditions which exist on the Isthmus. He made a careful inspection of the quarters of the laborers at Colon, galloping over the town on horseback. He listened to the laborers' complaints and promised to cause the grievances to be remedied. The President was cheered everywhere.

At Gatun, President and Mrs. Roosevelt disembarked and climbed the hill where the big dam and locks will be located. The men of the camp cheered the President, who made a short speech. The weather was cloudy, but no rain fell during the day.

President Roosevelt was glad to have seen the canal under such unfavorable conditions, as he now can appreciate the nature of the obstacles to be overcome. He was pleased with the condition of affairs and the system as now established in the zone. The President, it was given out, would return to the Isthmus whenever he thought it necessary. He was delighted with the hearty welcome the people of Panama had given him.

During the past six days the rainfall has been exceptionally heavy. Friday the rain gauges at Cristobal registered 4½ inches for 24 hours, and at one time one inch fell in 15 minutes. The Chagres and Rio Grande rivers flooded many portions of the zone, causing several landslides.

President Roosevelt reached Cristobal at 3:15 o'clock this afternoon and personally inspected the houses of canal employes, the camps of the laborers, the docks and other points of interest. The Presidential party took breakfast at Mount Hope, where there is a large reservoir supplying water to Cristobal Colon.

When he reached the railway station at Colon, President Roosevelt went upstairs into the Panama railroad offices, whence he reviewed the Cristobal fire brigade. After the exhibition President Roosevelt mounted a horse and accompanied by Chief Engineer Stevens and other officials and secret service men galloped over the entire town.

Most of the President's day at Cristobal was devoted to an inspection of quarters of the laborers. He talked with some of them and made note of their complaints, which were chiefly on the scarcity of West Indian food. The President promised that improvements, such as the erection of baths and kitchens and the paving of streets, would be made. When at the coronissary President Roosevelt said he saw no reason why the Canal Commission should not be able to sell West Indian provisions at the same price as was being charged by outsiders.

This evening a reception and ball were given on pier No. 11 at Cristobal in honor of President Roosevelt and his party, by the employes of the Canal Commission.

President Roosevelt, in a 30-minute speech which he made Saturday night just before he departed on board the Louisiana for Ponce, P. R.paid his respects in emphatic terms to those who have criticised the work of the canal, prefacing his statement with a declaration that he was pleased with what had already been accomplished.

When someone in the crowd called out the name of Poultney Bigelow, the President took the time to weigh his words, and then, in ringing tones, asserted that such critics would sink out of sight, while the canal would remain long after the criticism had been forgotten.

The President went off to the Louisiana at 9 p. m. He was accompanied by Surgeon General Rixey, Secretary Latta, Lieutenant Evans and the secret service men. The Louisiana sailed at 10 p. m.

The Washington and the Tennessee were delayed in coaling at Chiriqui and did not get back here in time to sail with the Louisiana. They doubtless will join that warship on the way to Porto Rico.

TO CORRECT INSURANCE ABUSES

New Laws Drafted Which Will be Introduced Into Legislatures.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Members of the insurance commission who have been engaged in drafting projected laws for the control of life insurance throughout the country, completed their work today and adjourned. A complete report will not be prepared for some time.

Sixteen new laws have been drawn up and the commissioners believe that they will, if adopted by the various states, correct the greater part of the abuses in the management of life insurance companies. These laws will be introduced next winter into the legislatures of 37 states. T. E. Drake, the insurance commissioner of the District of Columbia, will submit the proposed measures to President Roosevelt, in order that they may be mentioned in the forthcoming message of the President to Congress. The proposed new acts may be summarized as follows:

A standard police act which provides its forms of uniform policies for use by all life insurance companies.

An annual apportionment act which requires life insurance companies either to pay annual dividends, or credit the amount of surplus which he companies are permitted to retain in their treasuries.

An act prohibiting discrimination and rebating between agents and policy holders.

An act prohibiting corporations from acting as agents of life insurance companies.

An act regulating the election of the directors of mutual life insurance companies.

An act prohibiting the publishing of estimates and illustrations which misrepresent the terms of benefits of any policy.

An act prohibiting life insurance companies from making political contributions.

An act forbidding the expenditure of more than $500 for any specified purpose without the consent of the board of directors.

An act prohibiting life insurance companies from paying any officer a salary in excess of $50,000 annually.

AN OLD MAN'S TRIBUTE.

An Ohio Fruit Raiser, 78 Years Old, Cured of a Terrible Case After Ten Years of Suffering.

When suffering daily torture
From backache, rheumatic pain,
Any ill of kidneys or bladder,
Turn to Doan's Kidney Pills.
A cure endorsed by thousands.
Read an old man's tribute.

Sidney Justus, fruit dealer, of Mentor, Ohio, says: "I was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills of a severe case of kidney trouble of eight or ten years' standing. I suffered the most severe backache and other pains in the region of the kidneys. These were especially severe when stooping to lift anything, and often I could hardly straighten my back. The aching was bad in the daytime, but just as bad at night, and I was always lame in the morning. I was bothered with rheumatic pains and dropsical swelling of the feet. The urinary passages were painful, and the secretions were discolored and so free that often I had to rise at night. I felt tired all day. Half a box served to relieve me, and three boxes effected a permanent cure."

SIDNEY JUSTUS.

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Justus will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

ALL THE WEEK.

Another Repertoire Company, the Adam Good, to be Seen at the Opera House.

The Adam Good Company will be at the Newport Opera House during the entire week, in a repertoire of plays at matinee and evening performances. The company is headed by Bessie Sinnicks, a clever comedian, who is supported by a cast of players favorably known to popular-priced vaudeville. All the scenery, effects and accessories are furnished by the management. The plays offered include "The College Girl," "Princess of Patchwork," "McKenna's Flirtation," "An Auburn Courtship" and "The Great Handicap."

The attractions in Providence this week will be E. S. Willard in his repertoire of plays at the Providence Opera House, "Wild Nell, a Child of the Regiment," at the Empire; vaudeville at Keith's and burlesque at the Howard and Westminster.

The Boston theatres announce the following bills: Hollis Street, Maude Adams in "Peter Pan;" Colonial, "The Belle of Mayfair;" Majestic, "The Rose of the Rancho;" Bijou, "Young Mrs. Winthrop;" Park, Francis Wilson in "The Mountain Climber;" Tremont, "The College Widow;" Castle Square, "The Yeoman of the Guard;" Globe, "As Ye Sow;" Grand Opera House, "His Honor the Mayor."

Louis Mann, Clara Lipman and the rest of the "Julie Bonbon" company sailed last week for London, to fill an engagement there.

Because the Metropolitan opera season in New York opens November 26 with the first performances of David Belasco's "The Rose of the Rancho" at the Belasco Theatre and Anna Held's new musical comedy, "A Parisian Model," at the Broadway Theatre, will be given November 27.

Albert Chevalier, now on tour with Yvette Guilbert, has been engaged by Percy G. Williams for a four weeks' appearance in vaudeville in his theatres in New York, Brooklyn and Boston, beginning November 26 at the Colonial in Boston.

Thomas W. Ryley's production of "The Belle of Mayfair" will have its New York premiere at Daly's Theatre December 3.

Daniel Frohman has engaged Ralph Stuart for the leading role in his production of "The Spoilers."

"Madam Butterfly" has fascinated all New York. For the opening performance at the Garden Theatre, New York, Henry W. Savage found that the subscription orders alone called for nearly 200 more seats than the capacity of the house.

The Omaha city council may hereafter censor theatrical performances. An ordinance has been drawn and introduced and has the support of probably a majority of the councilmen, granting the council authority to prohibit the putting on of shows which it may regard as injurious to public morals.

Yvette Guilbert, who was booked to sail for Europe on the Kaiser Wilhelm II next Tuesday, has postponed her departure, as she has promised to appear in a performance for a charitable cause. She will sail November 29, going directly to Brussels to begin rehearsals of her play, "L'Eau Trouble," in which she will make her debut in the Royal Theatre du Pare, Brussels.

David Bispham, an American singer, appeared at Manchester, England, last Monday night in the first presentation of a new light romantic opera entitled "The Vicar of Wakefield," founded on Goldsmith's story. The opera was especially written and composed for Mr. Bispham. The book and lyrics are by Laurence Housman and the music is by Mrs. Lehmann. The production was a notable success and Mr. Bispham in the title role scored a great personal triumph.

O. H. Harlan, who is acting the leading comedy role in "The Vanderbilt Cup" with Elsie Janis at the Garrick Theatre, Philadelphia, will leave the company at the end of this week and go to New York to join Joe Weber's company. Mr. Harlan has been a member of Miss Janis's company since she first began her stellar engagement in "The Vanderbilt Cup." It has not been announced who will succeed him in her company.

Sixty members of the San Carlo opera company of Naples arrived in Boston on steamship Canopic last week, going to New Orleans to begin a ten weeks' engagement, after which they will tour the country, with Mme. Nordica as the star. Louisa Milesa, an American girl who won success as a soprano abroad, is one of the leading members of the company. In New Orleans the company will be joined by Mme. Nordica and Alice Neilson.

Camille Saint-Saens, the French composer, announces that his present American tour will end his career forever as a pianist. "I thought I would cease to play the piano in 1896," he said, "when I celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of my first appearance in public. But time treated me so gently I decided instead to make my sixtieth anniversary my farewell and I am happy to make it in a country that is new and wonderfully interesting to me."

An audience which filled the Savoy Theatre at Atlantic City greeted William Collier in his own and Grant Stewart's new comedy, "Caught in the Rain," last Monday evening. The play deals with the loves of Dick Crawford, a bashful swain, the role played by Mr. Collier, and Muriel Mason, a part played by Nannette Comstock. Others in the cast were George Nash, John Saville, Wallace Edinger, Grant Stewart, Jane Laurel and Louise Drew. The play is said to be brimful of heart interest and of fun.

Ellen Terry and Ethel Barrymore will appear at the Empire Theatre in New York this season. Charles Frohman has just completed the plans for the house for the remainder of the season. Mr. Drew will occupy the Empire stage in Pinero's "His House in Order" until Christmas, and will be followed by Maude Adams, who will play an engagement lasting over the holidays in Barrie's fairy play, "Peter Pan." Miss Terry, who is to make her farewell American tour under Mr. Frohman's management, will follow Miss Adams for a three weeks' engagement. Miss Barrymore will then appear at the Empire in her new play and round out the season at that house.

Eliza Szamosy, the Hungarian prima donna beauty who is one of the new singers introduced by Henry W. Savage in the cast of "Madam Butterfly," declares she suffered the most severe fright of her artistic career on the opening night of the Puccini opera in America. Following the ovation at her first performance the little singer rushed to her dressing room in tears, declaring she would never sing in America again. On investigation it was learned that she was upset by the enthusiastic Yankees in the gallery. Some one had whistled his approval and Szamosy thought it was hissing. Needless to remark she was soon made to understand no offense was intended, and now is disappointed if she does not hear a whistle when she sings the role of Cho-Cho-San.

NO NEW OELRICHS WILL.

Under the sanction of an order issued by Surrogate Judge Fitzgerald the locked box left by the late Hermann Oelrichs when he died on steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse was opened Saturday. It was found to contain personal papers of Mr. Oelrichs, but neither will nor codicil, nor any document that could in any way affect the validity of the testament executed by Mr. Oelrichs before he sailed for Europe last July.

Elizabeth Minot in Boston Transcript.

The autumn wind blows chill, the dead leaves fall.
The chastened sun sends down a colder ray,
The over ripe grapes from trembling clusters fall,
The elm's spires rise 'mid bunnches gray,
When lo, in garden, park, or shaded square,
Where rest the dead in deep, unchangeful sleep,
A mass of scarlet quivers in the air,
That, vibrant, stirs its colors rich and deep.

O Life! that lives when glowing life must die!
O Flame! that burns when burning sun grows dim!
The passion of the world has leaped on high,
Earth's ecstasy flings forth a battle hymn!

As glowing as the life stream of a saint,
As scarlet as the blood by sinners shed,
As pure as innocence with aureole faint,
As fervid as the wine that splashes red—
O Soul of Life, with glowing heart of fire,
O Soul of Death, of agony and woe—
O Heart of Love, that rises even higher,
O Heart of Hate, that joy may never know!

The mass of scarlet quivers in the air,
Defying death, decay, and blighting chill;
So leaps swift youth to dreams too passing fair,
All ardent, mocking at the thought of ill.

Oh, glorious is the gleam of vivid red
Against the mighty force of Autumn blight,
That dares, defies, nor bends a stately head
Till conquered, crushed, in the unequal fight.
O Soul, that lives all fervid to the last,
O Heart, that knowing evil, seeks but truth,
All honored be the man who holdeth fast
To Life's grand ecstasy, and dreams of youth!

Old Gentleman—So you are anxious to become my son-in-law?
Young Man—Yes, sir. So much so, in fact, that I am willing to marry your daughter.—[Smart Set.

"How much postage will this require?" asked the young author. "It is one of my manuscripts."
"Two cents an ounce," answered the postoffice clerk. "That's first-class matter."
"Oh, thank you!"—[Judge.

They had been married just a month. "Do you know what day this is?" she asked sweetly at the breakfast table.
"Yes," he answered nervously; "this is the day I have to pay the second instalment on that wedding ring!"—[Yonkers Statesman.

"A gentleman, after eating a good dinner, said to the waiter:
"'I am sorry I can't give you a tip, but I find I have only just enough money to pay the bill.'

"THE SILENT WAR."

Story of Fight Between the Masses and the Millionaires, by J. A. Mitchell.

War between the masses and the classes is the theme of John Ames Mitchell's latest book. It is evidently the purpose of the author to call attention to the discontent of the wretched poor, and open the eyes of those who are asleep in fancied security to the peril which he thinks is threatening the country—a revolution of the poor against the rich. Although "The Silent War" might be termed a dangerous book because of its tendency to excite class hatred, it impresses the reader as being more in the nature of a warning, or a prophecy, of what may befall this country if the mutterings of the workingman are not heeded. The arguments are those of the demagogue, while the illustrations, which have nothing to do with the story except in a general way, are more inflammatory than any of the speeches.

With such a sombre subject for its background, the story is surprisingly entertaining and original, and not lacking in humor in spite of its seriousness. It is an account of the conspiracy of the People's League against men of wealth. This organization is composed of laborers, skilled mechanics, farmers, editors and in fact nearly all classes of workers. The members are not content with merely railing at the rich and attacking their business methods, but try to equalize matters by a system of blackmail and robbery. Their object is to overthrow the plutocrats. The millionaire is given his choice—either to contribute a large sum to the League or to die—for these agitators think it is no crime to take a guilty life that innocent ones may be saved. As a result of this policy, prominent men all over the country suddenly disappear. So great is the influence of this society that it permeates the offices and the homes of the rich and even extends to officials of the law. The millionaire has no hope of escape—once he has refused to contribute to the People's League.

The serious nature of the book is brightened by an unusual love story, showing how gratitude rises superior to theories. The characters are well drawn, one of the despised plutocrats being an especially lovable man, while the workmen are depicted as men of intelligence and ability.

UP-TO-DATE DOCK YARDS.

Japanese battleship Satsuma, 19,000 tons, was launched at Yokosuka, Japan, last week. Her tonnage exceeds that of the English Dreadnought by about 1,000 tons. The Japanese government with characteristic foresight had already provided the means of docking this great ship. In this she followed the example of England, Germany and other maritime states, with the exception of America.

England has five government docks and ten private docks capable of docking the Dreadnought, and all have the capacity for docking the invincible class of cruisers (battleships in disguise), three of which are now being built. The cruisers are of 17,250 tons displacement, 540 feet long, 73½ feet beam, with a draft of 26 feet. Germany, which is on England's trail, has built, and is building, public and private, more docks capable of taking the Dreadnought than England has. There are, already completed, three German docks each capable of docking a much larger ship than the Dreadnought. These are docks Nos. 5 and 6 in the Imperial dock yard, at Kiel, and the Kaiser dock at Bremerhaven. In addition, there are two great floating docks capable of taking up ships of 15,000 and 18,000 tons respectively.

Should our 20,000-ton Dreadnought be built, which now seems probable, the government will have no means of docking her unless steps be taken at once to construct a dock capable of taking her. Such a ship will draw anywhere from 25 to 30 feet of water. Narragansett bay is the only place on our coast where all the conditions essential to a site for such a dock is to be found. As it will take as long to construct a great dry dock as it will to build the big ship, Congress should, during the coming session, provide for both at the same time.

DUNTAG OWES HOME.

It is a matter of interest and satisfaction that the report of the bureau of industrial statistics shows that the tendency of the population during the past five years in this state has been towards the suburbs and during that period there has been a perceptible increase in the number of homes owned, the proportion now being about 30 per cent. to 70 per cent of hired domiciles. In other words, the tables compiled by the department confirm the fact which has been patent to those who have been close observers of the trend of the times in this direction, that the suburbs are becoming more and more popular as compared with the cities and large towns and that the people who go into the sections just outside of the centres of population are buying homes of their own instead of renting property.

There are two principal reasons for this new tendency, one being the remarkable development of suburban real estate by individuals and corporations organized for that special purpose, and the other the growing interest in building and loan associations. Just outside almost every thickly settled section in the state real estate loans have been and are being promoted by shrewd speculators, and in almost every instance the purchasers of such property are buying it for the establishment of homes for themselves rather than for the erection of houses for rental. Then the building and loan associations come to the aid of buyers and help them carry out their plans for home owning, by loaning the money required for building purposes and permitting the re-payment in small and regular sums.

It is interesting to note in the tables prepared by the commissioner of industrial statistics that Newport stands first among the cities in the proportion of homes owned by the people, and that New Shoreham heads the towns in this respect. In the case of Newport it is considered that the number of cottages owned by summer residents adds materially in giving the city its leading position, although it is also true that a large number of permanent citizens are home owners. The case of New Shoreham is simply an illustration of the common condition, that in an isolated community the majority of the inhabitants are natives, and consequently owners of estates by inheritance. The same is true also of Little Compton, which ranks next to New Shoreham among the towns.

It is not surprising to find that all the towns of the state show a greater percentage of homes owned than any of the cities, as town populations are always more permanent than those of cities, and it is of course the permanent residents for the most part who are home owners. The greatest recent gain in home ownership is found in towns just outside of Providence, showing the disposition of many residents of that growing city to move beyond its boundaries in the search for suburban residences.

It is a wholesome condition which is revealed by these statistics. It is well that there should be a flowing of the population from the large cities to the rural sections adjacent, in order that the former may not become too greatly congested and that those who seek the latter may find there the advantages which accrue from country life. It is important, too, that the people of the state so far as possible should own their homes as home ownership makes for better and more permanent citizenship.

PURER FOOD IN PROSPECT.

That the pure food law will be effective, at least so far as it is concerned with the manufacture and sale of preserves and condiments, is conceded by the makers of such articles. The reason given for this confidence is that dealers in such goods now require a guarantee from the manufacturers and the latter are reluctant to give such an agreement unless it is supported by the real article sold rather than some substitute, for fear they will thereby lose their standing as reputable business men and reliable houses for the public to deal with in the purchase of goods bearing their labels.

Of course the elimination of adulterated preserves and condiments and the presence in the market of guaranteed goods will necessarily result in the increased cost of the articles, but it is never economical in the end to pay a small price for poor goods rather than a larger one for the genuine and pure. The saving in first cost is always more than balanced by greater expense from the need of increased food for nutrition or the cost of medicines and doctor's care for illness resulting from the continued use of impure foods. It is true, as has been pointed out in connection with the pure food investigations of late, that much of the adulteration has been done with harmless substances, but it is also true, as was brought out in the same way, that this was not always the case, but that often adulterants were employed which were positively injurious.

The same reasons for the effective operation of the pure food law in regard to preserves and condiments will apply to most articles of food affected by the law, and therefore it is fair to presume that the statute is to bring about a great change in the character of the food products offered in the markets, which will prove highly beneficial to the public in general. The initial cost of pure food will undoubtedly be greater, but the final result in better health and greater happiness will more than repay the added expense, besides the satisfaction felt in knowing that a full equivalent is received for the money expended.

Edward Scribner Stevens, who styles himself "prognosticator, astrologer and royally-appointed regent of King Cyprus the Great, for whom he will act until the last dead ruler re-visits the world," offers a dire prophecy. He says the "world is in the throes of an upheaval which will eventually right the earth and make the North Pole north and the South Pole south, instead of having the earth's axis on a slant. That upheaval will cause flood, fire and earthquake, and most of the large cities of the world are going to suffer." He enumerates 26 of the largest American cities which will be wiped off the face of the earth, including New York, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, Washington, Philadelphia and Albany, and prophesies similar destruction for London and Paris. All this, he says, will come within the next two years.

The proposition of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, to have traveling freight agents who will keep in frequent touch with the various industries located along its lines, and thus learn the desires and complaints of shippers, should be of benefit to Newport, though this is not a manufacturing centre. Much trouble is experienced here in receiving freight by rail without great delays and if the business men could meet such an agent it is possible that some of the causes for the present complaint might be removed.

It is reported that prominent members of the Liberal party in Cuba have a plan for the establishment of a permanent protectorate in Cuba by the American government. This plan, one of the Liberal leaders says, is supported by the foreign interests of that country and the Liberals propose to petition the President and Congress early in January to pass a bill making Cuba a protectorate. The sentiment for a protectorate, it is said, is strong throughout Cuba.

A great variety of weather is reported from various parts of the country yesterday. Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee were visited by a destructive rain and wind storm, Colorado and the Southwest experienced a severe blizzard, Tennessee reports washouts and the rivers higher than ever before known, while Louisiana had the highest temperature for this season on record in the past ten years, the mercury rising to 80 degrees.

The American Federation of Labor discussed yesterday for a half-hour or more the question whether there is any fixed general platform of principles which shall guide its course and by which it shall be known to the rest of the world, and ended the debate without coming to a conclusion. This looks as if the Federation has no such principles.

President Roosevelt before leaving Colon said he was pleased with what had already been done and praised the workmen for their share in the undertaking. With his characteristic enthusiasm he said he was so impressed with the magnitude of the work that he would like to see one of his sons engaged therein.

William R. Hearst has at last said one thing which every good citizen can approve. He announces that he will never again be a candidate for office.

It is not at last! President Roosevelt went to Panama to get a job for his son on the canal.

Even St. Peter's is not free from the attacks of the anarchists.

CLEANING OLD PEWTER.

Since the craze for collecting old pewter has developed many women have spent hours in their endeavor to try to polish the pieces into something approaching their former brightness but, generally speaking, without marked success. Some, of course, prefer that the pieces retain the dull leaden appearance indicative of old age, while others fancy the brighter pewter.

Very frequently old pewter has become badly oxidized or corroded and the removal of the incrustation will take time. One of the best methods of cleansing such pieces is by soaking in a bath of soda crystals or borax, as hot as possible, then scrubbing with sand soap. Dry the article, then with metal polish, a little petroleum and a woolen cloth scour until the surface begins to shew bright. Wash in soap and water and finish with a final polish of whiting.

A method in vogue among jewelers is to drop the pewter into a bath made of a solution of cyanide of potassium. It will be impossible to obtain this drug without a doctor's prescription, as it is a deadly poison, but, understanding the object for which it is to be used, any reputable person can obtain it in this way. The pewter should remain in the solution until the surface looks brighter, then take it out, wash with hot water and soap and dry with a flannel cloth. It would be well to wear rubber gloves while using the solution in order to protect the hands.

Another effective way of removing the discolorations is by using a mixture of kerosene and ordinary seashore sand, adding just enough of the oil to moisten the sand. With a coarse piece of canvas apply this to the metal and rub until the surface becomes bright. Any polish containing grease should be avoided if a brilliant finish is desired. Emery cloth or sand paper should not be used, as they will scratch the metal. In order to remove any dents which may have appeared, take a wooden mallet covered with leather, with two or three pieces of curved wood, to get into the crevices. Pewter is soft, and a gentle hammering will be all that is necessary to remove the hollows.

HAD NEVER SEEN WHITE MEN.

Strange People Found in the Arctic Region by the Captain of Steam Whaler Olga.

Details of the finding of a people who had never seen white men on Prince Albert Land in the Arctic are given by an officer of revenue cutter Thetis, who learned the facts from Captain Klinkinberg of steam whaler Olga.

Last winter when the Olga was in the ice near Prince Albert Land, Captain Klinkinberg, accompanied by an Eskimo, started inland on a hunting trip. He went 250 miles in a northeasterly direction over the snow, finding traces of the people finally overtaking 150 or more of them.

When they saw him they came toward him, armed with copper knives and bows and arrows. They held these above their heads, and he pointed a rifle at them. One advanced alone and the captain laid down his rifle the native putting down his weapons. They became friendly and by means of signs Klinkinberg learned that other than one old woman who came from Prince William Land, they had never seen white men previously. He visited the village and found about 500 people, all of whom lived by hunting and fishing. They use the most primitive utensils, fashioned from bone and native copper. Their dress was not unlike that of other Eskimos, but similar to that of the Greenland natives, being made of soft, tanned skins and sewed with deer sinews.

Their winter houses were of sod, with an inner lining of skins, and different in shape from those of other known tribes. They are nomadic. The only article seemingly brought from civilization seen by Captain Klinkinberg was a piece of steel, evidently from some ship. The steel was converted into a spearhead.

THE NEW 60-FOOTERS.

The 60-foot yachts which are being built at the Herreshoff boat shops, Bristol, the first for Commodore Henry F. Lippitt and the second for George M. Pynchon, members of the New York Yacht Club, have already begun to take on the appearance of racing craft. It is evident from the drawings that the 60-footers will be built on lines that will conform to the new rules of measurement adopted by the New York Yacht Club. While the exact dimensions are only known to the designer and owner, the new craft will have a measurement of 51 feet on the water line, 11 feet draft, 14 feet beam and 75 feet over all. In some respects the new yachts will resemble the schooner Queen, owned by J. Roger Maxwell, which proved a success during the racing season of last summer. It is generally believed among yachtsmen that the two yachts which are now under construction will bear a strong resemblance to the boat which will be built to defend America's cup when Sir Thomas Lipton again challenges for it in 1908.

All the vessels arrived at Cavite in efficient cruising condition, and during the voyage no deaths and no serious illnesses were reported. On the run from Singapore to Cavite the cruisers made a full power trial for speed, the Pennsylvania making 20 2-16 knots and the Maryland 20 2-15, both exceeding the trial trip record.

WILL ADVANCE FIVE PER CENT

Reply of Fall River Mill Owners to Council.

Say Conditions Do Not Warrant Greater Increase.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Nov. 19.—The manufacturers' committee today sent a letter to the textile council, in reply to the recent demand for an increase of 20 per cent in the wages of the cotton mill operatives in this city, stating that the manufacturers would make an advance of five per cent, to go into effect next Monday. The manufacturers' letter is brief, and states that the conditions of the industry do not justify a greater increase in wages. The time named for the new schedule to take effect is that set by the textile council in its letter.

The manufacturers' letter is in reply to the letter of the texile council of November 7, asking that an increase be made in the wages of operatives on which it based its request. November 26, and that an answer be given on or before November 19. The council's communication requested. The manufacturers say that the council is aware that there has been now, a total increase in wages of 20 per cent within 3 months, specifying the dates of these advances; they close by saying that the latest advance of five per cent is all that the present conditions warrant.

Secretary Traylor of the textile council, could not say when the council would meet to act on the manufacturers' letters, but he presumed a meeting would be held within a few days.

FOUR MORE CHINESE RELEASED

Member of Frolic's Crew Held for Trial in $15,000 Bonds.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 19.—Four more Chinese passengers who were on board the smuggling schooner Frolic were released today on $500 bail, and William A. Duncan, a member of the Frolic's crew, was arraigned at the United States district court. Duncan pleaded not guilty and was held for trial in $15,000 bonds. His arraignment followed an indictment by the grand jury here, charging him with aiding and abetting the illegal entrance of the Chinese into this country.

PILE OF STONES ON TRACK.

Electric Car Had Narrow Escape From Being Hurled from Trestle.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 19.—A dozen people, occupants of a Riverside car, were in danger of being hurled from the trestle at Crescent park into the water 60 feet below today. A big boulder and a pile of stones had been piled upon the track, and had it not been for the opportune appearance of Edward Cory, a fisherman, who saw the pile, and pulled it off the rails just as the electric car, in which were seated about a dozen passengers, was coming by a serious fatality might have resulted. An investigation is now under way.

THE LATEST NOMINATIONS.

The time approaches when the last nomination paper for the first election under the new charter will have been filed at the city clerk's office, but that time is not yet and City Clerk Stevens has all his spare time engaged for examination of the signatures. Today a number of Fourth Ward nominations were dropped in during the noon hour, and including Saturday and this morning a few independent papers were filed. The new names added since Saturday noon are as follows:

PROBATE COURT.

In the probate court this morning letters of administration on the estate of Susan A. Logan were granted to George E. Logan. Permission was granted to sell certain real estate of Charles Talbot Smith. Releases were ordered executed on the estates of Annie Gaillé and Ann E. Freeborn. Petitions for new bonds and change of surety on the estates of Mary T. Austin, Charles Talbot Smith, Thomas Ives Hare Powel and Isaac S. Sayer were granted. Max Levy, William R. Harvey and Sidney R. Harvey were appointed appraisers of the estate of Frederick F. Sands.

A certified copy of the decree of the superior court on the estate of William J. Underwood was ordered recorded. An appeal was taken from the decision of the probate court, probating the will, but in the superior court this appeal was discontinued, a compromise having been effected, so that the original probate of the will is now confirmed by the decree of the superior court.

The petition for guardianship of John O'Flaherty or Flaherty was continued for further hearing, and the consideration of the administrator's final account with the estate of William M. Smith was continued to November 26.

STEAM TRAWLER SPRAY HERE.

There promises to be something in the fish line today. The Block Island boat brought over 75 barrels this morning and the local fishermen are expected to turn in good catches this afternoon.

This morning the first steam trawler to appear here arrived at Long wharf. It is the Spray of Boston, owned by the syndicate and commanded by Captain Oliver Thomas. The new craft is an able-looking vessel of steel, and the big trawls are handled by steam hoisting gear from the boat, all fish being handled on board the vessel instead of first being taken into dories. It was because two of the big trawl lines became caught on ledges off Newport that the Spray came into this port for repairs.

The fish are being shipped today to John R. Niel of Boston. The Spray had some haddock and 1,000 codfish on board caught off Nantucket, and under ordinary conditions would have sent the fish into Boston, but the trouble with the trawls caused a change in plans and it was decided best to have the fish shipped by rail instead of waiting for the Spray to cruise around with them. The steamer carries a crew of 22 men, of whom 14 are fishermen.

JAMESTOWN.

(Regular correspondence of the News.)

Mr. Abbott Chandler left last evening on a short visit to New York.

John Quripell, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Quripell, has gone to New Bedford to enter the Rankins American Machine Company's shops as apprentice.

Miss Alice W. Cottrell and Miss Josie E. Knowles left Saturday night on a 10-days' trip to New York and Washington.

Mr. Herbert S. Weeden and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Barber on Weeden's lane over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Arnold left Saturday, on a short visit to Wickford and vicinity.

Mr. W. B. Gill left Saturday to visit his grandfather, Captain I. B. Briggs, in New York.

Miss Clara Brown is visiting her sister, Miss Letha Brown, in New Bedford.

The Enterprise Line's new boat, the St. Croix, made her first stop here last night on her way from Providence to New York. There has been no Sunday night boat on this line during the summer, but as the company has also started a line between Providence and New York, the boat will land here Sunday nights, giving a daily service to New York.

The Sunday schedule of the ferry for the winter went into effect yesterday, and as usual, although the change was advertised six weeks ago, there were a number of people on both docks waiting to take the trips that were dropped, and a number would have spent the night in Jamestown had it not been for an extra trip run to connect with the St. Croix of the Enterprise Line. This trip from Jamestown and Newport will be run Sundays as long as the boat of the New Line stops here Sunday nights.

Two-masted schooner George F. Phillips, bound from Kennebec, Maine, to Port Chestr, N. Y., lumber laden, grounded shortly before 10 last night while making Dutch Island harbor. The captain, seeing the lights in the harbor through the low lands inside of Fox hill, mistook the channel. The mouds east of the government reservation being very full added to the deception. The vessel lies well up on the southwest beach of Fox hill, it being high water when she grounded.

Curry, who fell Friday morning at the Pembroke Jones cottage, has so far recovered from the effects that it is now thought no serious consequences will ensue. At first nothing could be told about his condition, as he remained unconscious a long time.

—The choir of the First Presbyterian Church, Mr. H. Wood Thompson organist and musical director, gave the patients at the Newport Hospital good music yesterday. Both the music and the kindness of the singers and organist, all of whom showed a lively interest in the hospital, were much appreciated.

—The 6-inch guns constituting Battery Bankhead at Fort Adams are being fired today for the first time for an official test. The One Hundred and Tenth company, coast artillery, under the command of Captain R. T. Ellis, is conducting the test. A detail from Fort Adams is at Fort Wetherill preparing the 12-inch guns there for testing.

—It was probably noted this noon that there was no frigidity about the atmosphere, in fact, there seemed then to be no excuse for the drop in the price of ice. In the shade the mercury was about at the 66 mark and one responsive thermometer and one responsive thermometer which stood in the full glare of the sun indicated 104. Overcoats were worse than a nuisance at this time; in fact, they seemed superfluous all day.

BOUGHT FOR THE OWNER.

Property of Addicks, or the Bear-haven Realty Company, Sold by the Mortgagee.

An auction sale of real estate was held this noon in front of the Savings Bank building which attracted considerable attention. It was advertised as a mortgagee's sale, under a mortgage given by John H. Glover and wife to the Savings Bank of Newport, but it was really a sale of a portion of the property of Mr. J. Edward Addicks, as the land in question had been sold to him September 15, 1900. The property offered was in two parcels, one of over 4 and the other of over 23 acres, aggregating 27.932 acres, with buildings.

There was a little delay in starting the sale, but finally all who were to be present being on hand Auctioneer Thomas Burlingham read the notice and no one desiring to ask any questions the propery was offered. President Burdick of the bank gave Auctioneer Burlingham a memorandum of what the bank offered as a first bid, covering its claim on the property; this was $47,588.07. Mr. C. H. Koehne then bid $47,600. He stated that he represented the Bearhaven Realty Company, the owners of the equity, and as the claim of the bank had been satisfied he asked that no more bids be accepted. This request was complied with and the property was knocked down to Mr. Koehne, representing the Bearhaven Realty Company, for $47,600.

This sale does not include all the property of Mr. Addicks or the Bearhaven Realty Company at Beacon hill, for there are some six or nine acres which he purchased from other persons and which now form part of his estate. The cottage has been vacant for the past two summers, probably because Mr. Addicks did not pay any attention to it rather than that no tenants could be had. Apparently he has given little attention to his property here of late, though at one time he spent much time and money in improving the estate and had it in fine condition when he stopped work, allowing the place in spots to again look as though no one cared for it. In many ways this is an ideal cottage site, and if Mr. Addicks cared to sell it there would probably be no trouble about finding customers; in fact, there have been inquiries for this place which have never been answered.

The Bearhaven Realty Company is taxed for $65,000.

A TEMPERANCE ADDRESS.

Rev. E. A. Herring gave a temperance address to a much interested audience at the Young Men's Christian Association yesterday afternoon. He brought news of steady and large gains for temperance in the West and South. Local option is driving out many saloons. Then there is county prohibition, which is also working well, and ward prohibition, by which in some cities individual wards are freeing themselves of the saloon. He would not have a state prohibitory law now for Rhode Island, because it would not be enforced; but those other measures lead up to state prohibition. A reliable man has estimated that at least $100,000 is spent for liquor in Newport yearly. If that sum were going into other channels, how much the business of the city would be benefitted. The speaker favored a vote on the license question every year. Then these questions would be sifted and the truth would be known.

There was a short open parliament for everybody to speak or ask questions.

RE-ORGANIZATION OF ATLANTIC FLEET.

The Atlantic fleet is to be completely re-organized next February. Rear Admiral R. D. Evans will remain commander-in-chief, but the Navy Department has not yet finally chosen the rear admirals who will command the various divisions. The battleship fleet will consist of 14 vessels, including the Ohio, which has arrived at Gibraltar en route home from the Philippines, and the new battleships Louisiana, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey and Virginia. The necessity for keeping a large fleet of vessels in the waters of Santo Domingo has passed, and all of the vessels, with the exception of two or three of the smaller ones, have been relieved and will be put out of commission. The intention is to keep the small gunboats "in reserve" with only a sufficient number of men aboard to care for them and to make it possible to re-commission them on 48 hours notice.

A report has reached the Navy Department that battleship Ohio damaged her starboard propeller when coming through the Suez canal, and she has been ordered to proceed directly to Tompkinsville and, if necessary, will be docked at the New York navy yard.

DEATH OF ENOS PEDRO.

Mr. Enos Pedro, one of the oldest and best known of the colored residents of Newport, died last night at the Newport Hospital, of diseases incident to old age, being 90 years old. Mr. Pedro had spent the greater part of his life in Newport and for many years conducted a cobbler's shop on Elm street. He had been at the hospital about two weeks. A week ago yesterday, while a choir was singing at the hospital, Mr. Pedro asked that "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," his favorite hymn, be sung and the request was granted, much to his pleasure. Yesterday the same hymn was sung, but Mr. Pedro was in too weak a condition to express his pleasure, although he undoubtedly appreciated the singing. He was for many years a member of the old Second Baptist Church on Farewell street, where he was a regular attendant, and when the church was consolidated with the Central he transferred his membership. Mr. Pedro was a member of the Star of the East Beneficial Association. He leaves a widow.

THE OLIVER TYPEWRITER.

THE STANDARD VISIBLE WRITER That makes fast friends for it everywhere—its wonderful RESPONSIVENESS to every business need and its STAYING QUALITIES.

And then it is so compact, solid, neat, complete.

Just a bit of inside history:

Ten years ago an obscure company began making Oliver Typewriters. Competitors scoffed at its efforts to compete with the $20,000,000 typewriter trust. BUT IT HAD THE MACHINE THAT DELIVERED THE GOODS! What it lacked in millions it more than made up in the unquestioned merit of the Oliver, which forged ahead until it distanced its giant competitor and today stands supreme in the typewriter field.

Today the one-time scoffers are sitting on the "anxious seat."

OIL TRUST ANSWERS CHARGES.

Says There Is No Reason for Accusations and Expects to be Vindicated.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The Standard Oil Company today answered the charges made against it by Secretary Moody. It declares it has observed the utmost care to conduct its business honestly and fairly; that it believes its position is unassailable from both a legal and moral standpoint, and that the continuous growth and expansion of its business have been legitimate. The company asserts that it will be vindicated before the public and before the law.

The answer is in the form of a circular addressed to the shareholders by the directors. The circular bears the signature of C. M. Pratt, the secretary of the company, and says:

Regarding the suit commenced in the United States court at St. Louis, Mo., in which it is sought to prevent the Standard Oil Company (of New Jersey) from holding any stocks of other companies, your directors are entirely convinced that the company's position is unassailable from both a legal and a moral standpoint. We are confident that in the proceedings which will follow, the company will successfully maintain its position upon the merits and vindicate it before the public and the law.

"While your directors feel that there is no adequate reason for such a suit, either in the organization or the conduct of the business, yet, under the circumstances, it is perhaps better for your interests and the business interests of the country that the controversy should be removed to the judicial atmosphere of the courts—in whose integrity and wisdom every citizen should have the fullest confidence—where mere allegations must give way to legal proof.

"The present organization was formed after an exhaustive consideration of the legal and business problems involved. It has existed unchallenged for many years. Everything relating to it has been a matter of public report, and at every step the utmost care has been observed to conduct the business honestly and fairly, and in accordance with not only the spirit, but the technical requirements of the law.

"The legal organization of your company is of essentially the same nature and character as that of the other important industrial interests of the country, and the continuous growth and expansion of its business have been legitimate and moral. It is not to be lightly assumed that there is to be a reversal of the wheels of progress or a destruction of the foundation of the great industrial business of the country.

"You may be assured that in this litigation, as in all others affecting the company, your directors will see that the proper steps are taken to protect your interests."

SAYS HIS HEART IS BROKEN.

Captain Reichman Suspected by General Staff Because of Nationality.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The Times prints a letter said to have been written by Captain Carl Reichman, U. S. A., until recently a military instructor in West Point, and a military attache representing this country in Manchuria and South Africa during the Russian and Boer wars, in which the statement is made that Captain Reichman is refused admission as a member of the general staff of the United States army because, as he alleges, he was born in Germany. The letter was written to a friend in this city, it is stated, and relates a series of suspicions entertained by brother officers against him. Captain Reichman, it is stated, never intended that the letter should be made public, but his friends are said to have thought differently about it. An extract of the letter as published follows:

"I almost wish I could have died without knowing that I was not trusted by my superiors in nearly 25 years of service I have done my duty without looking to the right or the left, yet I am not trusted. I do not want any scandal, and the last thing I want to do is to involve the general staff in a scandal, for even though they refuse me admission my duty as an officer impels me to assist them in their work in so far as lies within my province and power. My heart is broken. I shall always feel that I am under suspicion; that I cannot even go and visit my old mother without arousing suspicion of my disloyalty to the minds of the general staff."

The Times says a movement has been started to bring the attention of the President to Captain Reichman's case.

FRATERNITIES CONDEMNED.

High School Secret Societies Have Degenerative Influence.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—High school fraternities and sororities are dealt a crushing blow in the report of the committee of the secondary schools, made after three years' investigation, condemning the secret societies as fetish, comical, unsocial and of a degenerative influence.

The report, which is considered the most thorough study ever made of the high school problem, was read by Principal Spencer A. Smith of the Wendell Phillips High School at the nineteenth annual conference of the academies and high schools in relations with the University of Chicago in Haskell hall. It was adopted unanimously. Over 400 high schools and preparatory institutions situated in nearly every state in the country are enrolled in the association, and the doom of the "greek" school Greek letter societies which exist in the majority of the schools was declared to have been marked by the conclusions reached.

Some of the high school principals in suggesting ways and means to stamp out the evil branded fraternity members with most severe names.

Principal E. V. Robinson of the Central High School of St. Paul, taking the stand that the board of education should prohibit fraternities rather than let parents work out the problems themselves, described conditions in his school.

"I have found that in my seven years' experience at Central high that the fraternity has had a most degenerating influence," he said. "Boys belonging to the fraternities, I have found, will lie, cheat, and do anything to remain loyal to their societies. The fraternity has developed professional liars in my school."

MORE FARMERS HAD INSPECTION

Vermont's Cattle Commission Cost the State $82,732.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Nov. 17.—Vermont's cattle commission, which recently resigned as a result of criticism in connection with the investigation into the sale of diseased cattle for alleged food purposes, cost the state $82,732, according to its biennial report just published. The report states that a largely increased number of farmers have asked for inspection, trebling the work of the commission. In the biennial term ending June 30, 1906, 29,395 cattle have been tested by the commissioners, and of this number 2,724 have been condemned, for which the sum of $72,895 has been paid the owners.

THE SECRET OF HAPPINESS.

GOOD HEALTH.

When the digestion is not normal, the balance of the body is not given the blood and strength necessary to the proper upkeep of the system. Among the many symptoms you will notice all the so-called "heart troubles," as fluttering, palpitating, a feeling of suffocation. The blood does not circulate freely and you are pale, or you feel flushed by the extreme efforts made by the system to throw off the ailment. Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets and Laxacomflts are the combination of remedies that will relieve you by removing the root of all the troubles: Dyspepsia.

Mrs. W. J. Austin of 926 Smithfield Ave., Lincoln, R. I., says:—

"After a few weeks' trial, I can happily state that Dr. Richards' Dyspepsia Tablets have proved of great benefit to me. I like them very much indeed, for they have done more for me than other medicines of a like kind and it is with pleasure I give this statement for publication as a recommendation for your sterling remedy."

For sale by all druggists. Better say "Richards" twice. Price 50 cents per bottle. Made by Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablet Association, 53 Worth St., New York.

A FACT PROVEN.

Should Convince Even the Most Skeptical of Its Truth.

If there is the slightest doubt in the minds of any that Dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit innoculated with the germs became bald in six weeks' time.

It must be apparent to any person therefore that the only prevention of baldness is the destruction of the germ—which act is successfully accomplished in one hundred per cent. of cases by the application of Newbro's Herpicide.

Dandruff is caused by the same germ which causes baldness and can be prevented with the same remedy—Newbro's Herpicide.

Accept no substitute. "Destroy the cause you remove the effect."

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

PEARY'S TRYING EXPERIENCE.

Wins His Success at a Cost of Terrible Suffering.

SYDNEY, Nova Scotia, Nov. 17.—The first authentic news of the experiences of the Polar-Arctic expedition of 1905, under the command of Commander Robert E. Peary, came to hand today by mail boat Virginian Lake, which has arrived from her last trip for the season to the Labrador coast.

The Virginian Lake connected with Peary's ship at Battle Harbor, supplying her with provisions and coal, all of which were badly needed. Peary and his crew were practically reduced to shattered circumstances when they reached Battle Harbor. The crew were exhausted through incessant battles with wind and storm and raging seas since they left Grants Land, nearly three months ago.

The ship, these advices stated, is badly damaged, and it may go hard with Peary if he encounters severe weather between Chateau bay and Sidney. The Roosevelt left Chateau bay on Thursday, but owing to prevalent rough seas and the fact that her sailing power is useless or nearly so, and two blades are gone from the propeller, she is able only to steam between three and four knots an hour, so that it will take her two or three days to reach this port.

Commander Peary and his men have borne up well under the severe strain to which they have been subjected. J. Clarke, the engineer, is suffering from his trying experiences in the Polar regions, the others having recovered pretty well from theirs. Commander Peary says that if they had had one of the old-time ships they would never have reached the Labrador coast in safety. As it was, the Roosevelt, although built expressly for the Arctic conditions, came in battered from stem to stern, swept of everything on deck, practically uncontrollable and with officers and men reduced to two meals a day and limited at that.

CARIBOU STOPS TRAIN.

Engineer Barely Had Time to Avert Collision With the Herd.

MONCTON, New Brunswick, Nov. 17.—A herd of caribou stopped the northbound express near this place recently, according to official reports just made public. Seven animals were in the herd and the engineer barely had time to apply brakes to avert a collision.

With the hunting season not yet ended, Surveyor General Sweeney reports a great increase in game license revenue for this year. Twenty-seven thousand dollars have already been taken in, $5,000 greater than the total last year. Non-resident fees are responsible for the greater portion of the increase.

DO NOT BE A BURDEN.

Wright & Hay Give Some Good Advice to Readers of the Daily News.

A Weak Stomach and Its Resulting Ills Are Not Natural. With Proper Care and the Use of Mi-o-na Stomach Tablets, the Very Worst Case of Indigestion or Stomach Trouble Can be Completely Cured.

It is a sin to deprive oneself of enjoyment in life and become a burden to others through indigestion.

The backaches, headaches, distress after eating, loss of appetite, gulping up of undigested food and gases are not natural. Mi-o-na stomach tablets used for a few days before meals will so strengthen the digestive organs that you can eat anything you want without fear of distress or resulting sickness.

The directions for taking Mi-o-na emphasize the difference between this remedy and the ordinary medicine that is given for indigestion. Mi-o-na is to be used before meals, strengthening the digestive system for the food which is to be eaten, while the ordinary remedy is taken after meals, and simply digests the food without strengthening the stomach.

Wright & Hay have so much faith in the merit of Mi-o-na that they sell it under a guarantee to refund the money, in case it does not cure. A 50-cent box of Mi-o-na will do more real good than a dozen packages of the ordinary remedies sold for indigestion. Then, too, it costs nothing unless it cures.

WOMEN DROWNED AS IN A TRAP

the water, women screamed and officers and men called orders that could be hardly heard above the din. The passengers from the Dix who could swim made their way to the sides of the Jeanie and were dragged aboard. The Jeanie was not moved until after all who had reached her had been hauled on board. Then she cruised about, picking up several who had managed to stay above water. It was after 10 o'clock before the Jeanie left the scene of the catastrophe and steamed to the Virginia street dock, Seattle, with her 36 survivors.

The Jeanie of the Alaska Coast Company had finished unloading at the great northern docks at Smith's cove and had started for Tacoma shortly before 7 o'clock, just about the same time the Dix left the Flyer dock for Port Blakely. There were no passengers on the Jeanie. The Dix was making the last trip of the night and was well filled with passengers.

When within about two miles north of Alki point the two steamers were within a short distance of each other, steaming along converging lines. The captain of the Jeanie says he signalled for the Dix to pass him, and his whistle was answered. The Dix was then within speaking distance of the Jeanie and to the port of her. Suddenly Mate Denison, who was at the wheel of the Dix, put her hard over to starboard as if to cross in front of the other vessel. Captain Mason, of the Jeanie, who was on the bridge, saw that an accident was imminent, and called out a warning to the man at the wheel of the Dix.

Captain Mason gave the signal to reverse his engines, and his vessel was slowly backing away when the two came together. There was but a slight crash, the force of the collision from the Dix coming against the side of the larger vessel, and not that of the heavier craft against the smaller. For a minute all was still, then a panic followed. When the Dix started to sink stern first, passengers and members of the crew leaped into the sea. Some of the passengers huddled in groups on the decks, while others knelt in prayer. The women, who had little chance for their lives, stayed with the sinking steamer and were drowned as in a trap.

"I got away from Smith's cove a little before 7 o'clock, and laid a course for Tacoma," said Captain Mason. "I had no passengers aboard. I saw the Dix headed for Port Blakely and signalled to her. The mate was at the wheel. Suddenly the Dix came up astern of me to port. As soon as I saw the Dix was so close I called to the man in her pilot house to know what he was doing. He put his wheel over to starboard and she started directly across my bows.

"I signalled to the engineer of my vessel to back at full speed, but we could not get out of the way in time. The Jeanie was backing a little when we struck. I guess it was pretty well abaft of amidships, and the shock was not enough to have injured an ordinary launch. The Dix listed heavily to starboard, righted herself and then sank stern first."

MEETS FRENCH BISHOPS.

Pope to Receive King George of Greece Next Sunday.

ROME, Nov. 19.—It has been officially decided that the Pope will receive King George of Greece Sunday next, following the ceremonial adopted on the occasion of the reception of King Edward.

The pontiff today received Cardinal Coullie, Archbishop of Lyons, and the bishops of Rennes, Verdun and St. Die, and conferred with them regarding the situation in France, giving the impression that he is gathering information for an allocution on the conflict between the Vatican and France to be delivered at the consistory in December.

MME. CALVE TO MARRY AGAIN.

Said to be Betrothed to Rich American Who Has Become Blind.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The rumor that Mme. Calve was betrothed to a rich American and would never again appear on the operatic stage is apparently confirmed. Last night, having quietly let her apartment, the singer left Paris for a long period, after confirming the news to a few intimate friends, but demanding a pledge of secrecy regarding the name of her future husband. Mme. Calve's servants said she went away with her fiancee, but they were unable to give either their destination or his name. It is believed that the couple are now on board a yacht on the Mediterranean.

The whole affair is shrouded in mystery. The future husband of Mme. Calve is described as a rich American artist, passionately fond of music, who for a long time has never missed a performance of Mrs. Calve, but who until recently had not sought an introduction. Just at the time when the American decided to ask for Mme. Calve's hand in marriage an accident to an electric apparatus rendered him blind, the last vision before he lost his sight being the face of the singer. Upon the return of the couple to France next spring, it is said, Mme. Calve and her husband will install themselves in a chateau where a theatre, similar to Adelina Patti's theatre at Craig-y-Nos, Wales, will be built for the singer and her friends.

The news of Mme. Calve's marriage has created a sensation in musical circles, although there is still considerable scepticism on the question whether she has decided to end her operatic career. The Gilblas calls attention to the fact that she has signed a contract to create the leading role in "Mary Magdalena" at the Opera Comique in March.

Why Patronize Home Industry?

I challenge all who handle factory-made goods to compete with mine of home make. In the business since 1872, have made chocolates from the bean up and so know what I am talking about. I know that even the manufacturers in this country catering to the 400 colored their chocolate black for style, but I didn't, and kept the natural color to show the quality of absolutely pure goods. The dark chocolate covers a good many bad things, such as worm-eaten and mouldy beans or no cocoa beans at all. They are roasted black to get rid of bad flavor. The salesmen of factories will tell the dealer that they can manufacture cheaper than I because they manufacture by machine. I agree, but only to a certain extent. They have more expense than a small manufacturer selling in his own town; for instance, building, machinery, packers, bookkeepers, salesmen, advertising, boxing and trucking. So they are compelled to make impure goods to compete with the small manufacturer. He in his native town would not risk his reputation to make such impure candy, that injures children as well as grown persons. Candy should be inspected by order of the Board of Health, and now, for the pure food law goes into effect in January and all sorts of goods will be unloaded for Christmas by the manufacturers.

NEW YORK HORSE SHOW.

Twenty Horses Entered for the Waldorf-Astoria Cup.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Madison Square Garden, resplendent in decorations of orange and black, was thrown open today to the twenty-second annual exhibition of the National Horse Show Association. About 1,700 horses, including the thoroughbreds of the hunt, saddle, and the high steppers of the coach and cart, are numbered among the competitors for the blue ribbon.

The show of the horse began at 9 o'clock with the customary formalities. During the first hour the fancy bred horses were exercised in the tan bark ring. The judging began at 10:30 with a preliminary trial of saddle horses, from which a number were to be selected for competition in class 73 Tuesday. This was followed by the judging of hunters and jumpers, stallions, ponies in harness, harness and saddle horses, qualified hunters, harness tandems, thoroughbred saddle horses and stallions, ponies under saddles and roadsters and road rigs.

Twenty of the finest horses in the show are entered for the most coveted prize of the show, the Waldorf-Astoria cup. The contest was believed to be between the entries of W. H. Moore, Miss Giula Moresini, Reginald Vanderbilt and Alfred Vanderbilt. To retain possession the cup must be won three times, and W. H. Moore has already won it twice with Forest King, which horse will be in the contest again this year. In this contest Miss Moresini will show Glorius and Togo, and Alfred Vanderbilt will display Youngster and Primrose. Charles W. Watson is also expected to show the pick of his stable in this event.

ALGONKINS BEAT GALAHADS.

Saturday afternoon the indoor base ball teams of the Galahad and Algonkin Clubs met for the second time, in the latter's rooms on Hunt court, and the Algonkins turned the tables on the Galahad team, winning 33 to 23. This makes a game each and the rubber will probably be played Thursday at the Galahad rooms. The feature of Saturday's play was the work of Hall, the midget of Algonkin, who made a double play unassisted and did not know it, being knocked down by the ball—but he held on and got the decision.

RUBBER WORKERS STRIKE.

Employes at Plant in Bristol Quietly Leave the Shops.

BRISTOL, Nov. 19.—About 400 employes in the arctic and lawn tennis shoe department of the National Rubber Works here today quietly walked out on a strike, claiming that it is impossible for them to accomplish as much work as they did formerly now that a new sole fitter had been ordered placed in the middle of the shoes. After consulting with the superintendent, the employes held a mass meeting in a near-by hall, and appointed a committee to wait on the management. The committee will request that six cents be paid instead of 4½ cents for making a pair of shoes. Unless an agreement is reached shortly other departments of the factory will also be affected.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend Reading's heaviness kept some of the active stocks in check and promoted profit taking in the western railroad stocks. What set-backs there were in the general market proved to be of short duration, a sharp rise in St. Paul and other representative stocks pulling up the list again. Business was on a large scale and the variety of stocks dealt in wide. St. Paul advanced four, Canadian Pacific 3¼, Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic pref red 3, Manhattan and General Chemical 2, Louisville & Nashville and Hocking Valley preferred 1¾, New York Central, Atlantic coast line and Hocking Coal 1½, Erie 1½ and Chesapeake & Ohio, Ontario & Western, Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, Canadian, Southern, Consolidated Gas and Peoples Gas 1. Keokuk & Des Moines broke 8½. Third avenue 2, Vulcan Detinning preferred 1½ and Smelting 1¾.

Noon—Money on call steady at 5½ per cent; prime mercantile paper 6 to 6½ per cent. The demand spread to some of the low-priced stocks and profit taking at other points caused an irregular tone. Bonds were steady.

Visiting Team from Paterson, N. J., Loses in Basket Ball Contest—Serious Infringement of Rules.

Since the Middletown Young Men's Christian Association team played at the state armory last year there has been no such contest as that of Saturday night, when the Lauter Athletic Club team was beaten by the Reserves, 19 to 10. Even the contest with the East Boston High School was not to be compared to it for roughness. In the first half things were pretty hot and it was felt that the limit had been reached, but this was not so, as those who stayed to the end saw. The Reserves won because they played better basket ball, leading 5 to 1 in the first half, and 11 to 6 in the second.

The attendance was good, but there was no crowd, and those who were present were pretty well worked up before the game was over. As the second half progressed the Reserves began to do things that were contrary to the rules, and the result was anything but basket ball. Still, at times there was some fine passing by both sides which for the instant made one forget the serious fractions of the rules. In passing the visitors showed well occasionally, but it must be remembered that most of the time it was because their men were not held, the Reserves giving them a chance.

On the other side Wright, who played against Harvey, made no pretense of doing anything but keep Harvey out of the game. He did this so openly and by such tactics that it looked like a set-to often, but Harvey kept his temper and there was no open rupture. Harvey was able to do some clever passing to Roche, who did the scoring for the home team, and began the scoring in each half. The backs on both sides did good work at times, and both sets of backs did work not called for in the rules.

In the first half the visitors showed signs of needing more wind; their condition did not appear to be as good as that of the Reserves, and they took all the time they could on several occasions to get back into shape. In the second half two substitutes were put in, Pettrieck going in for Martin and Higgins for Callahan. Several times it looked as though a visiting player was hurt, but apparently it was only a playing-off for wind and sympathy.

The visitors, who represent the Lauter Piano Company of Paterson, N. J., and are equipped by that company, had the finest looking uniforms of any visiting team seen here. Purple with gold trimmings for coats and jerseys, purple stockings and white shoes with gold trimmings made up the uniform in which they appeared, and they had another complete uniform to wear if they saw fit to change.

Taken all in all, though the struggle was close and the game hard fought, it was not a good one to see, as there was too much in it that was not basket ball, though fast basket ball was shown at times. The line-up was as follows:

Reserves.	Lauter Athletic Club.
Harvey, l. f.	l. f., Muller
Roche, r. f.	r. f., Martin, Petrieck
McMahon, c.	c., C. Wright
Shea, l.b.	l.b., Callahan, Higgans
Dunn, r. b.	r. b., W. Wright

Score: Reserves 19, Lauter 10; baskets, Roche 4, McMahon 1, Shea 1; Martin 1, Callahan 1, W. Wright 1; from fouls, Roche 7, Muller 4; missed foul tries, Roche 3, Muller 3; missed foul tries, Reserves 33, Lauter 37; referee, Waters.

PORTSMOUTH.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

Samuel Hodges of Clinton, N. Y., preached at 31 Friends' Meeting Sunday morning and evening, and in the afternoon at the Friends' meeting house in Tiverton. He left town this morning. During his week's stay here he was guest of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Sherman.

Rev. Aquilla Webb of Newport, who was expected to preach at the Christian Church Sunday afternoon, was on account of a severe cold unable to do so and Rev. R. A. Greene supplied his place. The congregation listened to an excellent sermon.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet with Mrs. George A. Faulkner Tuesday afternoon.

The Holy Cross guild house was dedicated one year ago, November 22. Its first birthday is to be celebrated, however, Wednesday, in courtesy to another entertainment scheduled for Thursday.

Those going to Newport on the Fall River car Saturday, due at 1:30, had a fine opportunity to see Mr. Reginald C. Vanderbilt's 10 horses, each led by a groom, on their way to the special cars to New York, where they will be exhibited at the Madison Square Garden horse show.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union is working zealously to make the sale a success.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Hall celebrated the tenth anniversary of their marriage Saturday evening by a whist party. The invitations were prettily written on tin cards. Fifty-two of those invited were present and 11 tables were played. The two first prizes, a pack of cards, were won by Mrs. W. F. Brownell and Mr. Herbert B. Ashley, and the man's consolation prize, a bill hook, by Dr. Berton W. Sloan and Mrs. Harry Curtis of Newport. Mrs. David P. Anthony and Mrs. James H. Fish were tied on the consolation prize for women, a tin rattle, which was finally obtained by Mrs. Anthony. Cake, coffee, fruit and confections were served and wedding cake to serve as souvenirs was taken home. A large number of presents, embracing a great variety of linware and beautiful flowers, were given to the couple.

Miss Theresa Peckham of Middletown was guest of the Misses Chase Sunday.

Mrs. Gothold and Mrs. Cranston of Newport were guests Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Almy.

Miss Mabel Gannage of Adamsville, who has been guest of Miss Edna C. Almy, returned home Sunday.

Mr. W. J. Elliott of Hamilton, Mass., spent Sunday with relatives here.

Mr. Abner P. Lawton, who has been spending the fall with his brother-in-law Mr. W. J. Elliott, intends to spend the winter with him.

Mr. Harold Hall, whose health was affected by the tunnel work in New York, and who was obliged to resign, is ill with typhoid fever and has since been quite ill. His uncle, Mr. Walter Chase of Portsmouth, N. H., has now returned home.

SAILORS WIN ANOTHER VICTORY.

Defeat Soldiers of Seventy-Eighth by Score of 16 to 0.

Rangers Successful in Contest With Team from One Hundred and Tenth Company.

The Training Station football team added another victory to their already long string, when they defeated the team from the Seventy-eighth Company at Fort Adams in a fast game filled with good plays by the members of both teams, by the score of 16 to 0.

There is no regular Fort Adams team this year, and the men of the different companies located at the fort have formed company teams. It was one of these teams that gave the heavy sailors a surprise and made them play fast football to win. The sailors outweighed the soldiers, and on the defense their line was like a stone wall, the home team failing to gain their distance once, but the defense of the soldiers was the same, and the heavy rushing backs of the Training Station team were thrown for a loss a number of times when they tried to plow through the soldiers' line. The sailors went around the ends for long runs time after time, and their trick plays were successfully executed, their forward pass gaining from 20 to 30 yards nearly every time it was played.

The three touchdowns that were scored by the sailors were on forward passes, from Connors to McCullough, who made from 20 to 30 yards each time and a touchdown twice, with a couple of opponents on his back when he went over the line. The work of Hall, Bishop, Connors and McCullough for the sailors, and of Lynn, Rudolph, Walker and Foshey for the soldiers was the best. The line-up was as follows:

Training Station	Seventy-eighth Co.
Malone, r. e.	Lynn, l. e.
Bishop, r. t.	Danford, l. t.
King, r. g.	Ahearn, l. g.
Hoehn, c.	Rank, c.
Scammon, l. g.	Bunnell, r. g.
Brown, l. t.	Rudolph, r. t.
McCullough, l. e.	Tipton, r. e.
Mahan, q. b.	Walker, q. b.
Connors, r. h. b.	Foshey, l. h. b.
Harmer, l. h. b.	Wallace, r. h. b.
Hall, f. b.	Sullivan, f. b.

Touchdowns, McCullough 3; goals from touchdowns, Brown 1; referee Dillon; umpire, Freeman; timer, Freeman; linesman, Murray; time, 15 minute halves.

The Ranger Athletic Club defeated the team from the One Hundred and Tenth before one of the largest crowds of the season, in the best played and most exciting game, by the score of 6 to 0.

The excitement was intense and it took a great deal of persuasion by the large number of sentries who were patrolling around the gridiron to keep the crowd back. It seems that the crowds from Newport are not in the habit of having to stay away from the players, and at times when the plays would come fast and furious they would try to run on the field, but it would take only a word to bring them back to their places.

The soldiers outweighed the local team, but they did not seem to have the practice that the boys from town had, and the Rangers would plow through the heavy soldiers and around their ends for long gains. The soldiers have a raw team and this was their first game but they did themselves credit. The Rangers played a perfect game and it looks as if they will be the champions of Newport for another year, as their goal line has not been crossed this season, and they seem to play stronger and better game as the season grows older.

The One Hundred and Tenth Company, about 75 men strong, escorted their team to the playing field, and the reception that they received when they emerged on the field could have been heard a long distance away. There were two sergeants with the flags bearing the company number and colors, and with Lieutenant Phipps at their head they made one of the finest appearances that one could wish to see. They were well supplied with battle songs, and with the organized cheering it made the game seem like a big school game. Lieutenant Phipps deserves great credit for the team that he has developed and the game that they played.

Lieutenant Phipps played a star game at quarterback with two exceptions and kept his men on the jump the whole time. The soldiers were inside their opponents' 10-yard line twice and both attempts that were made for field goals by Lieutenant Phipps went wide. It seemed that the soldiers had the Rangers on the run when they got away down the field, and it would have been easy scoring if the soldiers had kept rushing the ball.

There were not enough launches to accommodate the crowd that went from town, and the boats were running full and had to make extra trips to bring back the crowd that they carried over. A young man made a disturbance after the game and a guard took charge of him, placed him on a boat and sent him from the post.

In the first half neither team scored and the ball was punted from one part of the field to the other, as both teams were playing a remarkably fast and good game on the defensive and it would be a case of punt to get the ball out of danger, as it was next to impossible to gain through the line.

The Rangers used their full assortment of trick plays and it kept their opponents guessing, but they were good guessers and stopped the plays without much gain.

In the first half Halloran, the crack little left end for the soldiers, was kicked in the head and played all through the half without realizing where he was playing. As soon as it was noticed he was taken out of the game. After returning to his barracks Halloran became delirious. He was removed to the hospital and it was discovered that he had concussion of the brain. He is in a serious condition.

Early in the second half the Rangers received the ball on an on-side kick on their 40-yard line, and by steady plunges through the soldiers' line and a double pass, the ball was carried over by Bowler for the first and only score of the game. He kicked a pretty goal. The line-up was as follows:

Rangers. One Hundred and Tenth Co.
Curry, l. e.	W. Taliaferro, r. e.
Quarry, l. t.	Hoyt, r. t.
	Bart, r. g.
Murphy, l. g.	L. Taliaferro, r. g.
Sullivan, c.	Wilkonson, c.
Gillis, r. g.	Carlson, l. g.
Collins, r. t.	Stone, l. t.
	Halloran, l. e.
West, r. e.	Geary, l. e.
Nason, q. b.	Phipps, q. b.
Steele, l. h. b.	Angel, l. h. b.
Sherman, r. h. b.	Melton, r. h. b.
Bowler, f. b.	Jacobs, f. b.

Score: Touchdowns, Bowler; goal from touchdown, Bowler; referee, Fitzsimmons; umpires, Berwinkle and Tracey; timers, Roach and Freeman; linesmen, Waters and Sullivan. Time, 20 minute halves.

Gun Cotton Plant—Torpedo Station.

THE GUN COTTON FACTORY.

Report That the Plant Is to be Closed and a Torpedo Factory Established In Its Place.

It is common talk among the employes of the Torpedo Station that the gun cotton factory is to be permanently closed next month. The officials of the Station say they cannot discuss the subject at present, which suggests that there is something stronger than mere rumor in the report. The plant of course has not the capacity to supply either the cotton or the smokeless powder required for general service in the navy, but it has been considered invaluable for the experimental work of bringing the navy cotton and powder to its present excellent state. The state of perfection has not yet been reached, and it is to be expected that further experimental work will be done, so that there is much surprise that a plant so well provided is to be discontinued. The powder factory means quite a little to Newport, as there are a number of young men from this city who secure their living there and they must presumably seek work elsewhere.

Around with the report of discontinuance is heard a rumor that it is the purpose of the department to establish a torpedo factory where the powder plant now stands. This report is not heard so generally, and just what form and limits such a factory will take it is impossible to state. It might mean an establishment of minor importance or it might mean one that would give employment to a large number of skilled machinists, who would of course receive much larger wages than most of those now employed in the gun cotton works.
